

GEA Programme No. 438 for July 2018

This programme is under copyright of the Programme Team of the German English Association (GEA) in Munich. It is published by that team:

1. on the website gea-muc.de, and
2. by e-mail via the GEA mailing list mailinglist@gea-muc.de

Neither the programme, in part or in full, nor individual events may be published by other persons or elsewhere without written permission of the programme editor or the event organiser.

Please submit events to the programme team via email to programme@gea-muc.de.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

As the GDPR, the European General Data Protection Regulation, is in force since May 25th, 2018, there is a lot of doubt about whether and in what way it will affect photographers and the publication of photos, as taking a photo and more so its publication is undoubtedly “processing of personal data.”

The majority opinion so far is that the German Kunsturheberrechtsgesetz (KUG - Art Copyright Act) continues to be valid as it was before May 25th, 2018.

In our case we're not talking about family photos on a private website or professional photographers or journalists, but the occasional photo taken at a GEA event by the organiser or one of the participants and then published in our Photo Gallery (<https://gea-muc.de/ugallery/geagal.en.htm>).

The advice for photographers for the future is to clearly announce before the event starts that photos might be taken and published on the GEA website and participants not wanting this should take care not to appear on the photos. - “A safe place is behind me.” ☺

For the photos taken in the past and already in the Gallery, please go through those photos and if you discover yourself there in a more prominent way and have an objection against the publication, you have and already in the past had any right to object. In that case please contact the webmaster Harald Cramer (webmaster@gea-muc.de).

(We are not lawyers and this does not constitute a legal statement.)

Participation in GEA events is on your own responsibility and at your own risk.

Your GEA Programme Team:

Ute Becker, Jim Burgess, Harald Cramer

Description: Munich Walking Book Group – The Alternative Book Group

Have you ever thought of joining a book club but been put off by the idea of being cooped up with a group of people in a strange house and possibly having in return to host such a gathering yourself? Or maybe you are reluctant because your experience tells you that one or two people tend to dominate the discussions or because you do not want to commit yourself to regular attendance?

Then the Munich English Walking Book Group (The Alternative Book Group) may be the answer for you.

From the meeting point, we shall then walk through the English Garden, whatever the weather, for about one hour and a half. There will be pauses but no stops.

Walking in small groups of 4 or 5 will give everyone a chance to speak or give an opinion – and of course you are not bound to any particular group of people and movement between groups is welcomed and encouraged.

There will be no pre-registration and this will be a 'turn up and go' event.

The only commitment is that everyone taking part has read the chosen book.

Hope that you can join us.

Book: Journey by James A. Michener

The book is available through bookshops or via on line retailers. It is also available as an E-book. Tip: Try www.amazon.co.uk for second hand copies.

Host this Month: Cornelia B.

Organiser: John, John@GEA-MUC.de, 6975 8880

August

Wednesday 8 August, 17:00

Palatinate Wine Festival

When: Wednesday 8 Aug, 17:00

Where: Residenzstr. 1, Kaiserhof (the courtyard directly behind the Pfälzer Weinstube in der Residenz)

Transit Info:  U3/4/5/6 to Odeonsplatz

 StadtBus 100 to Odeonsplatz

Description: This is our fifth annual visit to the Palatinate (Pfälzer) Wine Festival in the Kaiserhof.

Unfortunately, as of this year reservations can no longer be guaranteed by the vintner, especially since 30% of the regular space is lost due to construction work.

Therefore, I would appreciate it if some volunteers could join me already at 5 p.m. (!) to improve our chances of keeping the reserved space.

Please let me know as soon as possible if and when you can come.

As in the past years there are some small meals available and, of course, wine!

Registration: Required, so that we know how many seats we'll need. Contact organizer.

Organizer: Dorothea, 609 9303, 0152 0354 6758, Dorothea@GEA-MUC.de
